Report: Lecture on Capital Markets and Banking by Mr. M. Mallikarjun

Date: 09.04.22

Venue: KLH Campus

Introduction: On the 9th of April, 2022, a highly informative lecture was delivered by Mr. M. Mallikarjun, Manager at Axis Bank, at the KLH Campus. The lecture primarily focused on capital markets, with a particular emphasis on scams that have occurred in India's financial landscape. Additionally, Mr. Mallikarjun provided valuable insights into the functioning of banks and encouraged students to consider active participation in trading activities.

Lecture Highlights:

- 1. Capital Markets and Scams in India: Mr. M. Mallikarjun commenced the lecture by providing a comprehensive overview of capital markets, outlining their significance in the Indian economy. He delved into the various components of capital markets, including stocks, bonds, and derivatives. Drawing attention to real-world scenarios, he discussed some infamous scams that have shaken the Indian financial system over the years. These examples served as cautionary tales, highlighting the importance of transparency, regulatory vigilance, and investor awareness.
- 2. Banking Functioning: Transitioning into the realm of banking, Mr. Mallikarjun elucidated the integral role of banks in the financial ecosystem. He expounded upon the core functions of banks, which encompass deposit-taking, lending, and facilitating transactions. With his vast experience in Axis Bank, he shared practical insights into how banks manage risks and ensure the security of customer funds. His explanations provided students with a clear understanding of the inner workings of banking institutions.
- 3. Encouragement for Student Participation in Trading: One of the lecture's key takeaways was the encouragement for students to consider engaging in trading activities. Mr. Mallikarjun stressed that having a foundational understanding of capital markets and trading can be immensely beneficial for personal financial management. He outlined the potential benefits and risks associated with trading and provided some basic guidelines for beginners looking to explore this avenue. This segment of the lecture generated a significant amount of interest and curiosity among the students.

Conclusion: Mr. M. Mallikarjun's lecture on capital markets, banking functioning, and trading provided valuable insights into the intricacies of the financial world. His discussion on historical scams underscored the need for ethical practices and prudent decision-making in financial matters. The lecture not only expanded students' knowledge but also kindled a desire for informed financial involvement. The event was a resounding success, leaving attendees with a deeper appreciation for the complexities of the financial sector.
